It must have been profoundly mortifying to the pride, not only of the Spanish ministry, but Petersburg, but got only a polito note recognizing his of the Spanish nation, to admit that a power appearance, and that no Russian envoy is to be sent at that of Gen. The finances of Spain are in runner yet taken, such a wretched condition that no Minister of Finance could be found willing to advocate any longer the continuance of the vast expenditures required for the attempted subjugacion! of the heroic islanders of San Domingo. The Monday. Mr. H. nreed won the and the adoption of the nece sary measures for Secretary of War to favor the numest the movement of the execution of this law. The failure of Spain coal over the Baltimore and Olio Railroad, representin the Dominican war is now so glaring that the Ministerial bill makes hardly any effort to palliate it by the common diplomat's generalities and perversion of tacts. It is frankly admitted, hat the chief reason on which a former Ministry had based the right of annexation, viz., the unanimous call for annexation on the part of real real results and the Dominicans, has been found to have been entirely fictitious. It is admitted that the whole or nearly the whole people of San Domingo had shown themselves opposed war on the part of Spain would make the war one of conquest, which, the Ministry declare, is contrary to the "rational, just, pacific and disinterested policy" of Spain. It is further admitted-and this must have been the most mortifying part of the confession-that the Spanish troops have been fairly beaten, for, says the bill. the agitation increased and gained towns and frontiers, extending over the whole of the territory, and at this day the Spanish portion of the I-band of San Domingo presents to the civilized world the spectacle of an entire people in arms."

Of the adoption of the bill there can be no headquarters: reasonable doubt. Nearly all political parties, though from different motives, are in favor of it, and popular opinion in Spain, we are told, has received the approuncement of the bill with enthusiasm. After the experience of the last three years and the present manifestations of the publie will, no Spanish statesman will ever advocate again the reamexation of San Domingo. Thus the patriotism exhibited during the last three years by the Dominicans has been gloriously rewarded, and their independence succossfully restored. For Spain, this unexpected issue may have much more serious consequence the roysions of this order, and will be forwarded or the grad day of each month for action at these head than the mere abandonment of the small Do. minican Republic. It has exhibited, in an unmistakeable manner and before the eyes of the ent re world, the weakness of its rule in its American possessions.
